

Draft Agenda
Follow Up Session on the Global Forum on Agriculture
Tuesday morning, 27 November 2012
OECD Conference Centre Room 13

Purpose of the Session

The Global Forum will open a dialogue in defining policy areas for future work where OECD and its members can contribute to improved coherence for food security. In the structure of a one day meeting there are limits on the detail into which the emerging ideas and themes can be explored. The purpose of the Follow-up Session is to provide an opportunity in a smaller group setting than the Forum to delve more deeply into the key themes and ideas expressed at the Forum in terms of what it might mean for the subsequent analytic work of the OECD and the DAC in particular.

Participants

The Follow-on Session will include invited guests, representatives from IOs, Civil Society, and Development Assistance Committee (DACs) Delegates and representatives from capitals.

Expected outputs

The outputs sought from the Session are:

- Identify a number of issues around which there are prospects of achieving improved coherence and where greater coherence offers significant benefits for food security and would be aligned with developing country needs and priorities;
- Allow participants to indicate their priorities for and possible interest in collaborative work on the issues or themes; and
- Identify possible modalities for further work and ongoing dialogue on policy coherence for food security, including steps to follow-up.
